GOVERNOR NAMES SCARAMAZZO TO CLEAN ELECTIONS COMMISSION

PHOENIX - Governor Janet Napolitano announced today that she has named Gary Scaramazzo to the Citizens Clean Elections Commission. Scaramazzo will serve for five years, replacing outgoing commissioner David McKay.

The law requires the commission to be politically balanced. Because of the current makeup of the commission, the latest appointee may not be a member of the Democratic Party, and may not be a resident of Maricopa County.

Scaramazzo is a registered Independent, and lives in Page, Arizona. He has served as the Mayor of Page, and on the Page city council. He is a developer, working on projects at Lake Powell and in Rocky Point. He holds bachelors and masters degrees in history from Northern Arizona University.

Gary Scaramazzo taught government to high school seniors for ten years, and currently advises the Navajo Nation regarding matters of economic development.
